1. GENERAL DESCRIPTION

What is Nectaro?

Nectaro launched a global online marketplace for investing in loans in 2016. Through the Platform, which is owned and operated by Nectaro, Nectaro provides investors with a convenient way to invest in loans originated by various Nectaro group lending companies in various jurisdictions. In September 2023, investments in loans were started being offered through financial instruments called notes on the Platform.

At the end of August 2025, Nectaro had over 8000 registered users.

Since Nectaro was founded, investors through the Platform have investment more than EUR 27 million.

Nectaro is authorised as an investment firm by Latvijas Banka, operating the Platform accessible online, where investors can invest in investment opportunities issued in the form of asset-backed securities (Notes). See the Section Error! Reference source not found. (NECTARO)Error! Reference source not found. for more information.

What are Notes?

Notes are financial instruments issued by the Issuer to Investors through Nectaro, allowing Investors to invest in Loans made by the Loan Originator to the Borrowers.

The Issuer is a special purpose legal entity established for the purpose of:

1. purchasing Loan Receivables from the Loan Originator;
2. pooling those Loan Receivables into a particular Series of Notes;
3. issuing such Notes to Investors through Nectaro.

See Sections 5 (ISSUER) and 7 (LOAN ORIGINATOR) for more information.

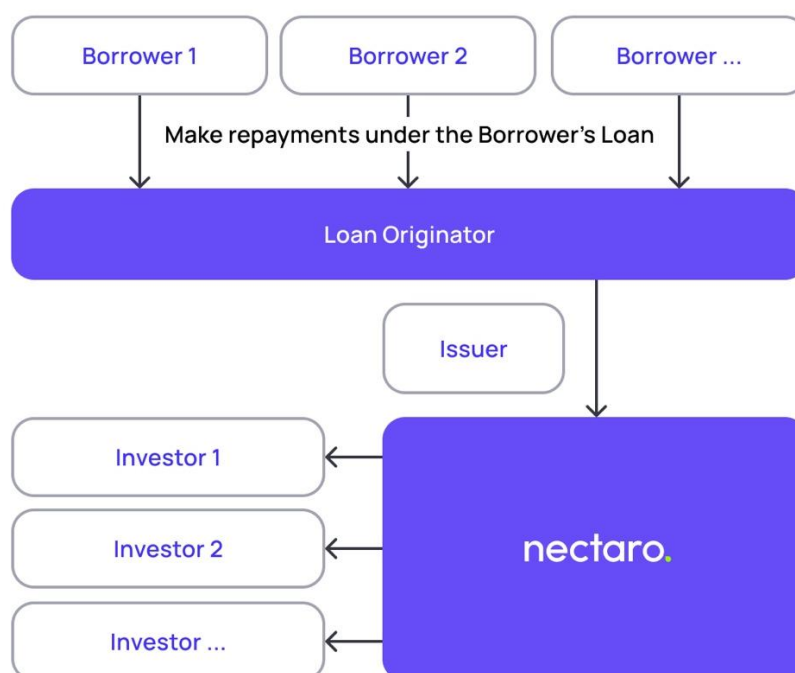

The flow of funds for issuance of Loan

The Loan Originator enters into the Loan Agreement with the Borrower under which the Borrower may request withdrawals of funds in accordance with the terms of the Loan Agreement. Funds are disbursed to the Borrower's account.

The flow of funds for repayment

Each time a Borrower makes repayments to the Loan Originator, the Loan Originator transfers the funds to the Issuer, which in turn makes repayments under the relevant Series of Notes to the relevant Investor through Nectaro as the paying agent of the Issuer. The repayments are credited to the relevant Investment Account.

THE FLOW OF FUNDS FOR REPAYMENTS

This means that if the Borrower makes the repayments to the Loan Originator later than scheduled, the repayments to the Investor will also be correspondingly delayed, because the Loan Originator will make payments to Nectaro acting as a paying agent for the Issuer later and the Issuer will not be able to make payments to the Investor as promised. Similarly, if the Borrower fails to make any repayments at all and the Loan Originator is unable to recover anything from the Borrower, the Investor will not receive any repayments.

The Loan Originator may provide a Buyback Obligation for Loan Receivables in the event of a default by the Borrower, which means that if the Borrower defaults on any repayment under the Loan Agreement for more than 60 days, the Loan Originator is obliged to repay the Loan Receivables together with any interest to Nectaro as the paying agent of the Issuer in full, irrespective of the fact that the Loan Originator has not received the funds in accordance with to the Loan Agreement, and Nectaro as the paying agent of the Issuer would then transfer the received payments to the Noteholders. In this situation, the Investor is exposed to the credit risk of the Loan Originator. See Sub-Section 2.2.4. (Insolvency of the Loan Originator).

Buyback Obligation is subject to certain limitations as described in Sub-Section 4.1.5 (The Buyback Obligation).

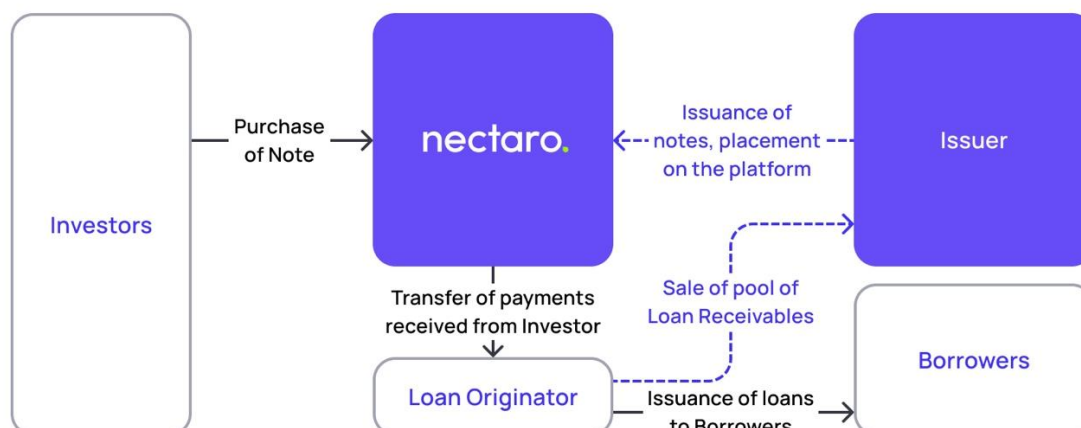

For additional information see Section 2.5 (RISKS SPECIFIC TO NOTES).

The flow of funds for investment

The Loan Originator makes Loans to Borrowers in accordance with the Loan Agreement.

Loan Receivables are sold by the Loan Originator to the Issuer. The Issuer issues a Series of Notes corresponding to these Loan Receivables to Investors via Nectaro. When an Investor purchases a Note in the Series, the Investment Accounts are credited with the Note and debited with the purchase price of the Note. The purchase price is transferred to the Loan Originator. The Loan is disbursed to the Borrower either before or after the Loan Originator has received the purchase price for the relevant Loan Receivables.

THE FLOW OF FUNDS FOR INVESTMENTS

2. RISK FACTORS

The Issuer believes that the following factors may affect its ability to perform its obligations under the Notes and, in the worst case, cause it to become insolvent. All of these risk factors and events are contingencies that may or may not occur and the Issuer is not in a position to express an opinion as to the likelihood of any such contingency occurring. Investors must bear in mind that Notes are unsecured. This Section may not describe all the potential risks that may affect the Issuer.

The most significant risk factors within each category are presented first. However, the order in which the risks are presented does not reflect the likelihood of their occurrence or the magnitude of their potential effect on the Issuer's or the Loan Originator's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects. Investors should also be aware that the risks described may be cumulative. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to the Issuer or which the Issuer currently considers immaterial may also affect the business, cash flows, results of operations and overall financial condition of the Issuer, and the list of risks contained in this Base Prospectus cannot be considered to be exhaustive.

Although the risk factors set out below have been grouped into categories, some risk factors fall into more than one category and Investors should carefully consider all the risk factors set out in this Section. Investors should carefully read the entire Base Prospectus and form their own opinion before making any investment decision in respect of the Notes.

Before making any investment decision in respect of the Notes, Investors should consult their own lawyer, accountant or other financial, legal and tax advisers and should carefully consider the risks involved in an investment in the Notes and should consider such an investment decision in the light of the prospective Investor's personal circumstances.

2.1. RISKS SPECIFIC TO THE UNDERLYING LOANS (BORROWERS RISKS)

2.1.1. Payments under the Loan Agreements may not be made on the agreed terms

The Notes are linked to the pool of underlying Loan Receivables. Therefore, if any of the Borrowers fails to make a payment to the Loan Originator in a timely manner in accordance with the Loan Agreement, then the Noteholder will also not receive a payment under the Notes in a timely manner. For example, if a Borrower makes a repayment a week later than the agreed schedule, the Noteholder will also receive the relevant part of the repayment at least a week later. In addition, if a Borrower makes no repayment at all and the Loan Originator is unable to recover anything from the Borrower, the Noteholder will also not receive any further repayments unless the Loan is sold to the Loan Originator in accordance with the Buyback Obligation in the event of a default by the Borrower (i.e., irrespective of the Borrower's failure to make its payments under the underlying Loan Agreement).

The Loan Originator also has the option to offer the Loan Receivable with the feature of a Buyback Obligation in the event of a default by the Borrower, which means that the Loan Originator is obliged to repurchase the Loan Receivables if the Borrower has failed to pay within 60 days after the scheduled repayment date and there is therefore no cash flow for the Loan Originator to make further payments to the Issuer. While this feature may reduce the potential loss to the Noteholder if the Borrower, and subsequently the Loan Originator, defaults, the Buyback Obligation is only as strong as the company providing it. If the Loan Originator defaults on its obligation and does not have sufficient cash flow to make the payments under the Notes, the Noteholder is still exposed to the risk that the underlying Borrower defaults and thus the Loan Originator defaults as well.

While the likelihood that any Borrower will fail to make repayments or default will depend on various factors such as the amount of the payment, the Borrower's income, and the repayment term, it is important to understand that such likelihood always exists. For this reason, the Notes are only suitable investments for Investors who have the appropriate knowledge and experience and who are in a financial position to lose part or even all of the money they invest in the Notes.

Overall, the Borrower's failure to make repayments to the Loan Originator under the Loan Agreement, and thus the Loan Originator's failure to meet its obligations to the Issuer and subsequently to the Noteholders, may be caused by various factors, including, but not limited to:

1. Borrower misjudging ability to repay – each Borrower should evaluate its current and future financial position itself and assess its ability to repay. For various reasons, a Borrower may overestimate its future cash flows and borrow more from the Loan Originator than it can repay.
2. Limitations of initial risk scoring - the Loan Originator has developed its own method of scoring the credit risk of the Borrower based on a variety of information that may be obtained from parties other than the Loan Originator (e.g., credit rating agencies). There is a risk that the information may be incorrect or outdated, or that the scoring method may be inadequate.
3. Unexpected events – reasons why the Borrower might miss a repayment, include loss of income, a delay in receiving expected income, unexpected costs, or even the Borrower's insolvency, bankruptcy or liquidation.
4. Loss-making operations – the Borrower may incur losses due to various business events and factors, such as intense competition, higher than expected customer acquisition costs, high recovery costs, unexpected costs, portfolio reductions, changes in local regulations and management errors.
5. Macroeconomic factors – the credit risk scoring of the Loan Originator makes assumptions about the Borrower's ability to repay under normal economic conditions. A sudden change in macroeconomic factors could significantly affect the Borrower's ability to repay.
6. Other liabilities – the underlying Loans, which are linked to the repayment of the Notes, generally do not restrict the Borrower from incurring additional unsecured or secured indebtedness. Additional indebtedness may adversely affect the Borrower's creditworthiness and may result in financial distress, insolvency or bankruptcy of the Borrower.
7. Loan issued in a different currency than the Borrower's income – in some cases, the Loan is in a currency other than the currency in which the Borrower earns income. Significant changes in the exchange rates or a local currency devaluation could affect the Borrower's ability to make repayments.
8. Freezing, seizure or closure of the Borrower's bank/payment service provider account. The account used by the Borrower for its operations may be frozen, blocked, or closed for a number of reasons, including breaches of anti-money laundering and know your client requirements, sanctions violations, arbitrary actions by government authorities or insolvency of a bank or payment service provider. The inability to use the bank account could limit the Borrower's ability to make payments under the Loan Agreement to the Loan Originator for an indefinite period of time, or even lead to the insolvency or bankruptcy of the Borrower.

9. Other or sole sources of funding – in addition to the Loan Originator, the Borrower may use other sources of funding, such as a bank credit line, corporate bond issues, private equity or public share offerings. In some situations, such as an economic downturn, the Borrower may find it difficult to obtain funding from other sources to refinance the existing liabilities, resulting in a liquidity crisis that could cause the Borrower to have difficulty continuing its business.

2.1.2. It may not be possible to recover the full principal amount and interest owed by the Borrowers and, therefore, the Noteholder may not recover the amount invested

While any recovery from a Borrower is limited to the value of the Borrower's assets (if any), some jurisdictions may impose a lower limit that creditors may claim from the Borrower or may establish a list of assets that may not be sold for recovery purposes, thereby reducing the maximum amount that could be recovered from the Borrower and consequently distributed among the Noteholders.

The underlying Loans that are linked to the Note do not restrict the Borrowers from incurring additional unsecured or secured debt. This means that if the Loan is not secured by an asset and any funds from the Borrower are available for collection, those funds could be allocated to various creditors, i.e., not only the Loan Originator, but also other persons to whom the Borrower owes money to, such as the local tax authority, governmental authorities, other lending companies and creditors.

In addition, the Loan Agreement may be challenged for a variety of reasons, thereby delaying or otherwise preventing the Loan Originator from exercising its rights under the Loan Agreement for an indeterminate period of time. The reasons for challenging the Loan Agreement could include errors in the agreements, the electronic form of the agreement (although the legal form requirement could in principle be satisfied by such an electronic signature, its value as evidence in court proceedings in some jurisdictions may be less than that of an actual hand-written signature on a physical document), compliance with regulations.

For the reasons described above, a Noteholder may experience a delay in repayment or a partial or total loss of the amount invested in Notes.

2.1.3. The Borrower may prepay the Loan

A Borrower may repay all or part of the remaining principal amount at any time without penalty. This may happen, for example, if the Borrower is able to obtain lower cost financing from other sources and wishes to refinance the Loan. The Loan Agreement may also be terminated or cancelled early by the Loan Originator, resulting in the prepayment of the amounts due by the Borrower without penalty. While the Noteholder may invest the repaid funds elsewhere, the return on the investments may be less than the originally planned return.

2.1.4. The Borrower may face difficulties repaying the Loan early

A Borrower may be in breach of the Loan Agreement, e.g. the Borrower may incur additional financial indebtedness without the consent of the Loan Originator, and such breach will entitle the Loan Originator under the Loan Agreement to require early Loan repayment of the Loan in full. A Borrower may not have the necessary financial resources to make such prepayment, which could result in the Borrower's debt restructuring or debt collection and cause the Noteholder to experience delayed repayments or a partial or total loss of the amount invested under the Notes.

2.1.5. Certain situations or actions may raise conflicts of interest

Although the rights and obligations of Nectaro, the Issuer and the Loan Originator are detailed in the Transaction Documents and this Base Prospectus, it is not possible to completely avoid the possibility of a conflict of interest between the parties that could affect the interests of the Noteholders.

The same persons in several Nectaro group companies are responsible for exercising management board member/strategic decision-making and risk management functions within Nectaro group companies. Segregation of these functions is not required if it is not warranted by the scale, complexity, and range of Nectaro's investment services and business activities. However, this may lead to the individual failing to perform their duties in a sound, honest, and professional manner.

For example, the strategic decisions in the Loan Originator and a Borrower are made by the same parties. Furthermore, OCN "Ecofinance Technologies" SRL (as the Borrower), "ECOFINANCE IFN SA" (as the Borrower) and the Loan Originator are owned by the same direct shareholder (DYNINNO FINTECH HOLDING LIMITED, also the Borrower) and, ultimately, by the same Ultimate Beneficial Owner. DYNINNO FINTECH HOLDING LIMITED (the Borrower) is a parent company to the Loan Originator. Both companies are ultimately controlled by the same Ultimate Beneficial Owner. This group structure allows the shareholder to exercise control over strategic decision-making in the Loan Originator and the Borrowers.

The cumulation of strategic decision-making functions in several group entities exposes Loan Originator to excessive risk appetite (e.g., Loans may be extended without adequate evaluation of the Borrower's credit risk on terms not commonly accepted in transactions between unrelated parties and against adequate collateral).

Although Nectaro, the Loan Originator, and the Borrower have implemented necessary measures to mitigate the aforementioned conflict of interest risks, the occurrence of such situations cannot be entirely ruled out.

2.2. RISKS SPECIFIC TO LOAN SERVICING

2.2.1. The Loan Originator is unable to continue servicing the Loan

Various factors may adversely affect the ability of the Loan Originator to service the Loan, which in turn may result in delayed repayments to the Noteholder or even a partial or total loss of the amount invested. Some of these factors are:

1. Loss-making operations – the Loan Originator may incur losses due to various business events and factors, such as intense competition, higher than expected customer acquisition costs, high recovery costs, unexpected costs, portfolio reductions, changes in local regulations regarding to new Loans and management errors.
2. Macro-environmental factors – various macro-environmental factors such as recession, military conflicts, natural disasters or pandemics could significantly increase the non-performing Loans and respectively also non-performing Loan ratio.
3. Freezing, seizure or closure of the Loan Originator's bank/payment service provider account. The account used by the Loan Originator for its operations may be frozen, blocked, or closed for a number of reasons, including breaches of anti-money laundering and know your client requirements, sanctions violations, arbitrary actions by government authorities or insolvency of a bank or payment service provider. The inability to use the bank account could limit the Loan Originator's ability to collect repayments from the Borrowers and transfer funds to the Issuer for an indefinite period of time or even lead to the insolvency or bankruptcy of the Loan Originator.
4. Changes in local regulations with respect to Loans already issued – a legislative body in the country where the Loan Originator operates could introduce a Borrowers' moratorium

(a legally permitted period of delay in the performance of a legal obligation or the repayment of a debt) or even full or partial debt forgiveness (including interest and penalties).

5. Other or sole sources of funding – in addition to Nectaro, the Loan Originator may use other sources of funding, such as a bank credit line, corporate bond issues, private equity or public share offerings. In some situations, such as an economic downturn, the Loan Originator may find it difficult to obtain funding from other sources to refinance the existing liabilities, resulting in a liquidity crisis that could cause the Loan Originator to have difficulty continuing its business.

2.2.2. No backup servicer may be available to service the underlying Loans if the Loan Originator is unable to continue servicing of the Loans

One of the principal functions of the Loan Originator in respect of the Notes is to provide Loan servicing. There may be no backup servicer that could be appointed to take over the servicing of the Loans from the Loan Originator if necessary. If there is an event of default or other circumstance that disrupts the Loan Originator's ability to properly service the Loans and manage the debt of the Borrowers, and if there is no backup Loan servicing solution in place at that time, the timing and volume of repayments could be materially affected, resulting in a partial or total loss of the amounts invested in the Notes.

2.2.3. The Loan Originator may intentionally or unintentionally breach its contractual obligations

There is a risk that the Loan Originator will take actions that are in breach of the Transaction Documents, including the risk of fraud against the Issuer and/or Nectaro, resulting in the partial or total loss of amounts invested in Notes. Breaches of contract that may occur include, but are not limited to:

1. Loan Receivables sold to the Issuer are or will be pledged to other creditors – according to the Transaction Documents, to which the Loan Originator is a party, the Loan Receivables underlying the Notes may not be pledged to any creditor. If the Loan Originator intentionally or unintentionally pledges the specific Loan Receivables sold to the Issuer to other creditors, the Noteholder could lose some or all of the funds invested if the Loan Originator defaults or becomes insolvent and thus has no cash flow to make payments to the Issuer.
2. False or incomplete information about the Loan Originator – all information in this Base Prospectus about and/or relating to the Loan Originator has been provided and certified by the Loan Originator as being current, true, and complete. Material errors or omissions in such information may initially affect the decision of the Noteholder to invest in a particular Note and may ultimately result in a negative outcome of the investment.
3. False Borrower data – the Loan Originator provides Nectaro with information about the status of the Loans, the Borrowers, repayment schedules, repayments, extensions of the underlying Loans or changes to the Loan Agreements. Whilst Nectaro regularly requests the Loan Originator to provide scanned copies of the documents as evidence for randomly selected Loans, Nectaro does not review and verify all Loans underlying the Notes. There is a risk that the Loan Originator may intentionally or unintentionally provide incorrect information to Nectaro or fail to provide any information to Nectaro, which could affect payments under the Notes.
4. The Loan Originator stops cooperation with Nectaro – the Loan Originator could suddenly stop cooperating with Nectaro for any reason. This could result in the Loan Originator failing to perform its obligations under the existing agreements, including the Transaction Documents, and breaching the terms thereof. The Loan Originator could stop making payments to the Issuer, which means that the Issuer may not be able to make payments to the Noteholders. The Loan Originator could also stop providing Nectaro with the necessary information or provide such information with significant delays.

2.2.4. Insolvency of the Loan Originator

Insolvency, bankruptcy or other similar adverse events may materially affect or even eliminate the ability of the Loan Originator to service the Loans issued, to perform its obligations under the Transaction Documents and, among other things, to perform the undertaken Buyback Obligation and Repurchase obligations to the Issuer. This means that if the Loan Originator experiences significant problems, the Loan Originator may not be able to transfer the underlying Loan repayments from the Borrower or make payments of the buyback price or the repurchase price to the Issuer which in turn would not be able to make payments to the Noteholder.

The Loan Originator may be required to continue to treat the Loan Receivables as assets of the Loan Originator for accounting purposes. The inclusion or recognition of the Loan Receivables sold to the Issuer as assets of the Loan Originator in the event of an insolvency proceeding may result in the receiver or the administrator not recognising the Issuer's title over the Loan Receivables sold to it. In this case, the Issuer would have to take legal action to protect its interests in the Loan Receivables. The Issuer may have to prove to the administrator, receiver and/or other parties that the Loan Receivables and the Borrower's payments thereon should not be included in the assets of the Loan Originator that are available for the general pool of creditors. If the Loan Receivables are treated as assets of the Loan Originator that are available for the general pool of creditors and not of the Issuer, the Issuer may be treated as an unsecured creditor of the Loan Originator and it may then be entitled to receive only a portion of any distributions available to the unsecured creditors of the same class and such portion of distributions may not be sufficient to satisfy all or part of the indebtedness to the Issuer.

In the event of insolvency, an administrator is usually required to consider which past transactions of the insolvent company need to be challenged and which assets sold or funds transferred need to be recovered. There is a risk that the administrator of the Loan Originator may take action to recover from the estate of the Loan Originator the Loan Receivables sold to the Issuer or amounts paid to the Issuer or Nectaro. Nectaro and / or the Issuer would then be required to take legal action to protect its interests in the Loan Receivables and the Borrower's payments and to argue against the position of the administrator in court proceedings, which could be lengthy and costly and the successful outcome of which cannot be guaranteed.

The Transaction Documents permit Nectaro to appoint a backup servicer to take over the servicing of the Loan Receivables in the event of the insolvency or bankruptcy of the Loan Originator. Enforcement of contractual rights may not result in prompt recovery for the Noteholders and recovery may be affected by lengthy and costly legal proceedings.

Ultimately, the Noteholder may experience a delay in repayment or a partial or total loss of the amount invested in the Notes.

2.2.5. Certain situations or actions may raise conflicts of interest

Although the rights and obligations of Nectaro, the Issuer and the Loan Originator are detailed in the Transaction Documents and this Base Prospectus, it is not possible to completely avoid the possibility of a conflict of interest between the parties that could affect the interests of the Noteholders.

The same persons in several Nectaro group companies are responsible for exercising management board member/strategic decision-making and risk management functions within Nectaro group companies. Segregation of these functions is not required if it is not warranted by the scale, complexity, and range of Nectaro's investment services and business activities. However, this may lead to the individual failing to perform their duties in a sound, honest, and professional manner.

For example, the strategic decisions in the Loan Originator and a Borrower are made by the same parties. Furthermore, OCN "Ecofinance Technologies" SRL (as the Borrower), "ECOFINANCE IFN SA", WARM CASH LENDING CORP. (as the Borrower) and the Loan Originator are owned by the same direct shareholder (DYNINNO FINTECH HOLDING LIMITED, also the Borrower) and, ultimately, by the same Ultimate Beneficial Owner. DYNINNO FINTECH HOLDING LIMITED (the Borrower) is a parent company to the Loan Originator. Both companies are ultimately controlled by the same Ultimate Beneficial Owner. This group structure allows the shareholder to exercise control over strategic decision-making in the Loan Originator and the Borrowers.

To ensure adequate standard of servicing of the Loans, the Loan Originator retains a proportion of the outstanding Loan principal (the so-called "skin-in-the-game"). The Loan Originator will continue servicing the Loan after the transfer of the Loan Receivables.

2.3. RISKS SPECIFIC TO NECTARO

2.3.1. Inability to continue operations

Various events and failures can cause situations where Nectaro is unable to continue operations.

As a relatively new service, Nectaro operates in a complex and dynamic regulatory and competitive environment and various events and failures could result in Nectaro ceasing to provide services, including the operation of the Platform. These events include, but are not limited to, licence revocation, poor financial performance, negative reputation, non-compliance events, dramatic changes in the applicable regulations affecting Nectaro's operating model or an economic downturn. If Nectaro were to cease operations, this could have a significant impact on the Noteholder's ability to receive repayment on a timely basis.

Should Nectaro enter liquidation or insolvency, as a regulated and supervised entity, the process will be supervised by Latvijas Banka. The appointed liquidator or administrator will take over the functions of the management board. Nectaro will continue to service its clients and the Investment Accounts, and relevant portfolios of financial instruments in accordance with what Nectaro is permitted to do under the applicable insolvency and liquidation rules. The process from the date of appointment would be managed by the appointed administrator or liquidator. In some cases, the Investors' Protection Law may apply. Such proceedings may have a significant impact on the timing of the redemption of the investment and add complexity to the redemption process for the Noteholder.

In addition, Nectaro could for any reason suddenly cease to fulfil its obligations under the existing agreements, resulting in delayed payments or a partial or total loss of the amount invested in the Notes.

2.3.2. Non-compliance leading to revocation of licence

In order to provide services to clients, Nectaro, as the operator of the Platform, has obtained an investment firm licence from Latvijas Banka. The licence may be suspended or revoked if Nectaro fails to comply with the regulations. Loss of the licence by Nectaro could result in delayed payments or partial or total loss of the amount invested under the Notes.

2.3.3. Failure of IT systems or a security breach

The technology that Nectaro has developed over the years is a cornerstone of Nectaro's future success. The satisfactory performance, reliability and availability of the Platform is critical to its operations, customer service and reputation.

While Nectaro has taken steps to protect confidential information, the techniques used to gain unauthorised, improper or illegal access to systems, data, or customer information, or to disable or degrade services are constantly evolving and may not be detected quickly.

As a result, the security measures of Nectaro and Nectaro's third-party vendor could be breached and these breaches could result in the theft of confidential client information. Breaches of security measures due to the actions of third parties, employee error, third party vendor error, design flaws in the software or interruptions in Nectaro's systems and services could adversely affect our relationships with Nectaro's clients, damage Nectaro's reputation and expose Nectaro to significant liability.

Furthermore, in the event of damage or interruption, existing insurance policies may not adequately compensate Nectaro and Nectaro's clients for any losses that may be incurred. However, as IT systems are critical to Nectaro's operations, significant resources are devoted to ensuring the stable and uninterrupted performance of the IT systems.

Nectaro's bank accounts may be frozen or closed and banks holding Noteholders' funds may become insolvent

Nectaro's clients' funds, including the funds deposited in the Issuer's Account for settlement under the Notes, are held segregated from Nectaro's own funds in various bank accounts designated as client funds accounts.

One or more of the bank accounts used by Nectaro may be blocked, seized or closed for any number of reasons, including insolvency of the banks, resulting in the interruption of funds transfers.

2.3.4. Significant problems or termination of the agreement with a Nectaro partner may affect delivery of services to the clients

In providing its services, Nectaro relies on several carefully selected partners and any problems with the service providers could affect Nectaro's ability to provide services to the Noteholder. Whilst Nectaro has taken a number of steps to reduce the likelihood and impact of such events, such as having back-up service providers where possible, there is still a risk that the Noteholder may not be able to access the Platform or receive services.

2.3.5. Certain situations or actions may raise conflicts of interest

Although the rights and obligations of Nectaro, the Issuer and the Loan Originator are detailed in the Transaction Documents and this Base Prospectus, and Nectaro has established policies and procedures to mitigate the risk, it is not possible to completely avoid the possibility of a conflict of interest between the parties that could affect the interests of the Noteholders.

The same persons in several Nectaro group companies are responsible for exercising management board member/strategic decision-making and risk management functions within Nectaro group companies. Segregation of these functions is not required if it is not warranted by the scale, complexity, and range of Nectaro's investment services and business activities. However, this may lead to the individual failing to perform their duties in a sound, honest, and professional manner.

Also, persons cumulating multiple functions may not have sufficient capacity to perform them effectively and may be exposed to conflicting incentives which may undermine the effective exercise of these functions (e.g. the method of determining the remuneration of the persons involved in the compliance and risk management function may compromise their objectivity). Although Nectaro, the Loan Originator, and the Borrower have implemented necessary measures to mitigate the aforementioned conflict of interest risks, the occurrence of such situations cannot be entirely ruled out.

While Nectaro provides placement services to the Issuer in respect of the Notes, Nectaro also provides the infrastructure services to the Loan Originator and the Issuer to effect sales of the Loan Receivables to the Issuer and to effect the Buyback Obligations and Repurchases. Nectaro will receive fees from the Loan Originator for its placement services. Nectaro has taken care to structure the fees in a manner that is compliant and that does not breach the conflict of interest management rules. Such placement fees may qualify as inducements and Nectaro would disclose information about these inducements to the Noteholder. In addition to the disclosure of inducements, Nectaro has set up internal procedures to identify and manage conflicts of interest. Some conflicts of interest require disclosure and these will be disclosed.

2.4. RISKS SPECIFIC TO THE ISSUER

2.4.1. Default or insolvency of the Issuer

The Issuer is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Nectaro Group and has no business activities other than those described in this Base Prospectus. There is a risk that the Issuer may suddenly cease to effectively perform its obligations under the existing agreements and breach its provisions, resulting in failure to make repayments to the Noteholders. This could result in delays in repayments and the partial or total loss of amounts invested.

While the Issuer is incorporated, established and operating as a special purpose entity, the Issuer could be declared insolvent due to possible legal deficiencies in the applicable law and/or judicial practice for various reasons, including, but not limited to, a Noteholder or other creditor initiating the insolvency proceedings against the Issuer in bad faith and the court not considering the limited recourse and non-petition provisions defined in this Base Prospectus as a sufficient grounds to reject such proceedings. In such situations, the Noteholder may experience delays in receiving its invested funds and its priority as a creditor of the Issuer may be judicially altered, resulting in the Noteholder receiving less than the amounts due under the Notes.

The Terms and Conditions of the Notes (in Section 10 (

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE NOTES)) are drafted and intended to have legal effect and to be legally binding contractual obligations. There may be external circumstances which may affect such legal construction, including, but not limited to court decisions and/or new or amended legislation.

2.4.2. Nectaro may not be able to cover the maintenance and administration costs of the Issuer

Given the pass-through nature of the Issuer, the maintenance costs and administration costs of the Issuer will be substantially borne by the Loan Originator, either through a direct compensation mechanism or indirectly through Nectaro. If Nectaro is not able to cover such costs for any of the reasons set out in Section 2.3 (RISKS SPECIFIC TO NECTARO) above, this could adversely affect the operations of the Issuer and its ability to service the Notes and make payments to the Noteholders.

2.4.3. Information asymmetry

Some of the information in this Base Prospectus and material information received during the term of the Notes will be obtained from the Loan Originator. There is a risk that the Loan Originator may provide material information to the Issuer late or not at all. As a result:

1. the Issuer, although acting through Nectaro as its authorised representative, will not be able to exercise its rights under the Transaction Documents and act in the interests of the Noteholders in a timely manner; and
2. the Issuer will not be able to prepare and publish supplements to this Base Prospectus in a timely manner, which may affect the Noteholders' judgment in purchasing the Notes if they are unaware of any significant new factor, material error or inaccuracy relating to the information obtained from the Loan Originator.

2.4.4. Cross-risks applicable to the Issuer

Given the pass-through nature of the Issuer, the Issuer and its ability to pay amounts due to the Noteholders under the Note are subject to all of the risks described in Sections 2.1 (RISKS SPECIFIC TO THE UNDERLYING LOANS), 2.2 (RISKS SPECIFIC TO LOAN SERVICING) and 2.3 (RISKS SPECIFIC TO NECTARO).

2.5. RISKS SPECIFIC TO NOTES

2.5.1. The Noteholder has no rights of recourse against the Borrowers or the Loan Originator

The Noteholder has no direct right to the Loan Receivables. Instead, the Noteholder acquires Notes which are backed by the corresponding Loan Receivables. The legal title to the Loan Receivables and the corresponding rights are vested in the Issuer. This means that the Noteholder has no direct recourse to either the Loan Originator or against the Borrowers and no ability to pursue the Loan Originator or any of the Borrowers independently and at its discretion to collect payments under the relevant Loan. All such actions will be taken by the Issuer as the legal owner of the Loan Receivables in accordance with the provisions of this Base Prospectus and the Transaction Documents. This essentially means that payments under the Notes are dependent on the payment discipline of the relevant Borrower and the integrity of the Loan Originator.

2.5.2. Change of creditors' priority

The outcome of judicial or insolvency proceedings could, by operation of law, override the priority of creditors set out in this Base Prospectus, meaning that the Noteholders of one Series of Notes could become equal creditors with Noteholders of other Series of Notes, so that all proceeds received by the Issuer from all Loan Receivables would be distributed on a pro rata basis or otherwise.

2.5.3. Certain costs may rank higher than payments to the Noteholder

While it is the responsibility of the Issuer to transfer to the Noteholder all payments that have been received from the Loan Originator by Nectaro as the paying agent of the Issuer, there are certain costs, such as taxes, that have a higher priority than payments to the Noteholder. This means that the Noteholder would not receive payment until the payment obligations with a higher priority have been settled.

In addition, there is a risk that the outcome of judicial or insolvency proceedings may determine a different priority of payment than that set out in this Base Prospectus.

2.5.4. Non-Series specific liabilities are allocated to all Series of Notes on a pro rata basis

Where there are higher priority costs, i.e., taxes, fees and collection costs, relating to the specific Note, these will be met out of the payments due to the Noteholders in accordance with the priority of payments. Where the liability is not Series-specific, e.g. legal costs, the liability will be allocated to all Series of Notes on a pro rata basis unless the Priority of Payments provides otherwise.

2.5.5. Due diligence and monitoring performed by Nectaro are limited and do not provide any warranty or indemnity

During the course of the cooperation, Nectaro will assess the creditworthiness of the Loan Originator's business, their credit policies, credit processes and procedures. This assessment is limited in scope and may not address all material risks associated with an investment in the Notes.

Although if Nectaro regularly evaluates the business model, credit policy and credit process implemented by the Loan Originator, this may not guarantee the future performance of the investment.

Nectaro does not provide any warranty or guarantee to the Noteholder and does not indemnify or hold the Noteholder harmless from any loss or adverse consequence arising directly or indirectly from the investment in the Notes. The Noteholder relies on the assessment and monitoring carried out by Nectaro. Basing investment decisions solely on the fact that Nectaro has evaluated the Loan Originator may result in a partial or total loss of the amounts invested.

2.5.6. Repurchase could affect planned return

The Loan Originator may repurchase the Loan Receivables from the Issuer at any time at their then outstanding value without any penalty or other compensation. This may happen, for example, in case where the Loan Originator is able to acquire lower cost funding from other sources and wishes to refinance the Loan.

The Loan Originator has not only a right to repurchase, but also has an obligation to repurchase the Loan Receivables from the Issuer upon the occurrence of certain events specified in the Cooperation Agreement. The Loan Originator may be obliged to repurchase one or more of the relevant Loan Receivables and there are certain events that may trigger the obligation to repurchase all of the Loan Receivables. The occurrence of an Event of Default under the Cooperation Agreement triggers the obligation to repurchase all the Loans Receivables.

If the repurchase right is exercised by the Loan Originator or if the repurchase obligation arises, the relevant Series of Notes will be redeemed early in whole or in part as soon as the Issuer has received the repurchase price from the Loan Originator. Noteholders will receive a lower return on their investments in the Notes redeemed upon repurchase than the return originally contemplated.

2.5.7. New regulations in the future might impact the Noteholder and Nectaro

As Nectaro is a licensed investment firm, it is subject to strict regulatory requirements which may change from time to time. In addition, certain regulations affecting Noteholders (such as those relating to the prevention of possible money laundering) may affect Noteholders. Such regulations may in the future increase investor protection measures, restrict access to Notes to qualified or sophisticated Noteholders only, limit the proportion of the portfolio that may be invested in Notes or introduce any other restrictive measures.

The introduction of new regulations or significant changes to the existing regulations could affect Nectaro's profitability, cost base and future operations. Failure to comply with regulations could result in, among other things, lawsuits, administrative enforcement actions, penalties, and revocation of licences and authorisations. Ultimately, this could result in delayed payments or partial or total loss of amounts invested under the Notes.

2.5.8. Possible conflict of interest

Although the rights and obligations of Nectaro, the Issuer and the Loan Originator are segregated as set out the Transaction Documents and this Base Prospectus, and Nectaro has established policies and procedures to mitigate the risk, it is not possible to completely avoid the possibility of a conflict of interest between the parties that could affect the interests of the Noteholders.

Nectaro provides placement services to the Issuer in respect of the Notes. Nectaro is also entitled to receive a certain fee from the Loan Originator based on the volume of the outstanding Notes purchased by Investors. Nectaro has carefully set up the fee in a manner that is compliant and that does not breach the conflict of interest management rules. Such a fee may qualify as an inducement and Nectaro would disclose information about such inducements to the Noteholder. In addition to disclosing inducements, Nectaro has internal procedures in place to identify and manage conflicts of interest. Some conflicts of interest require disclosure and these are disclosed.

2.5.9. New regulations regarding taxes might impact the expected return for the Noteholder

If new regulations are introduced, or existing regulations or their interpretation are changed so that the Issuer and/or Nectaro are required to withhold additional tax before making payments to the Noteholder, and the Issuer and/or Nectaro are required to withhold any transfer tax, stamp duty and/or financial transaction tax, this could affect the expected return on investment of the Noteholder. Similar developments in the Noteholder's country of tax residence may have the same effect.

2.5.10. Notes have limited liquidity and transferability

The Notes are illiquid securities and there is no active market for them, and the Notes are not admitted to trading in any trading venue and it is not possible to trade Notes between Noteholders on the Platform. This means that once Notes are purchased, they will remain the property of the Noteholder until the final maturity of the Notes. Accordingly, a Noteholder should only invest in Notes which it is willing to hold to maturity.

2.5.11. An undiversified investment portfolio may result in greater exposure to risks than a well-diversified portfolio

Investing in a single Note or in Notes with underlying Loans in a single country means that the performance of the portfolio and risk exposure will depend on that Note, the Loan Originator and the country risk.

Nectaro encourages its customers to build a well-diversified portfolio and provides several tools on the Platform to automate investing in Notes to make this easier.

2.5.12. Notes are not bank deposits

Investment in Notes does not have the status of a bank deposit in Latvia and is not covered by any deposit protection or guarantee scheme operated by the Republic of Latvia or any other jurisdiction.

Each Series of Notes will be issued on the terms and conditions set out in the Section 10 (TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE NOTES) of this Base Prospectus as supplemented by the applicable Final Terms. The Final Terms will be published on the website <https://nectaro.eu>. A form of the applicable Final Terms is set out under the Section 12 (APPLICABLE FINAL TERMS) of the Base Prospectus.

3.4. Other relevant information

This Base Prospectus must be read and construed together with any supplements to this Base Prospectus and with any information incorporated by reference into this Base Prospectus and, in relation to any Series of Notes, must be read and construed together with the relevant applicable Final Terms.

3.5. Interests of natural and legal persons in the Note offer

As far as Nectaro is aware, no person involved in this Note offer has any interest material to the offer other than potential conflicts of interest that may arise between the Issuer, Nectaro and the Loan Originator. These conflicts of interest situations are mitigated by a clear division of roles between Nectaro, the Issuer and the Loan Originator in the Transaction Documents and in Nectaro's internal procedures for mitigating conflicts of interest.

3.6. Reasons for the offer and use of proceeds

The Issuer expects that net proceeds of any Series of Notes will equal the Aggregate Nominal Amount of the relevant Series. The issuance of the Notes and the receipt of funds upon the sale of Notes to the Investors is intended to enable the Loan Originator to make Loans from these funds and to strengthen its business operations.

If, in respect of a particular Series, there is any other specified use of proceeds, this will be set out in the relevant Final Terms for that Series.

3.7. Unauthorised information

No person has been authorised to give any information or to make any representation not contained in or not consistent with this Base Prospectus or any other document relating to the Programme, any information supplied by the Issuer, or any other information as is in the public domain and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorised by the Issuer.

Nectaro has not authorised the whole or any part of this Base Prospectus and does not make any representation or warranty, or accept any responsibility as to the accuracy or completeness of the information contained in this Base Prospectus or any responsibility for the acts or omissions of the Issuer or any other person in connection with the issue and offering of the Notes, nor does Nectaro or any of its shareholders, directors, affiliates, advisers or agents take any responsibility for the acts or omissions of the Issuer or any other person in connection with the issue, offering and sale of the Notes.

3.8. Restrictions on distribution

The distribution of this Base Prospectus and any Final Terms, and the offer, sale, and delivery of the Notes in certain jurisdictions may be restricted by law. Persons into whose possession this Base Prospectus or any Final Terms comes are required by the Issuer and Nectaro to inform themselves about and to observe any such restrictions. Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act. Subject to certain exceptions, Notes may not be offered, sold or delivered within the United States or to U.S. persons. Neither this Base Prospectus nor any Final Terms constitute an offer or an invitation to subscribe for or purchase any Notes and should not be considered as a recommendation by the Issuer, Nectaro or any of them that any recipient of this Base Prospectus or any Final Terms should subscribe for or purchase any Notes. Each recipient of this Base Prospectus or any Final Terms will be taken to have made its own investigation and appraisal of the condition (financial or otherwise) of the Issuer. Nectaro has not provided any financial or taxation advice in connection with the Programme or the Notes.

3.9. Programme limit

The maximum aggregate nominal amount of all Notes under the Programme will not exceed EUR 20 000 000.00 (or its equivalent in other currencies).

3.10. Language

The language of this Base Prospectus is English. Certain legislative references and technical terms might be cited in their original language so that the correct technical meaning may be ascribed to them under applicable law.

3.11. Ratings

No Series of Notes issued under the Programme will be rated by any credit rating agency.

3.12. Currencies

The financial information contained in this Base Prospectus has been expressed in euro. The Issuer's functional currency is euro, and the Issuer prepares its financial statements in euro.

3.13. Third-party and market share data

This Base Prospectus contains information regarding business of the Issuer, Nectaro, the Loan Originator and others, and the industry in which they operate and compete. Where third party information has been used in this Base Prospectus, the source of such information has been identified. Statistical information included in this Base Prospectus has been derived from official public sources, including the statistical releases. All such statistical information may differ from that stated in other sources for a variety of reasons, including the use of different definitions and cut-off times. This data may subsequently be revised as new data becomes available, and any such revised data will not be circulated by the Issuer to Investors who have purchased the Notes. In some cases, independently determined industry data is not available. In these cases, any market share data included in this Base Prospectus is referred to as having been estimated. All such estimates have been made by either the Issuer or the Loan Originator using its information and other publicly available market information. Each of the Issuer and the Loan Originator believes that these estimates of market share are helpful as they give prospective Investors a better understanding of the industry in which the Issuer or the Loan Originator operates as well as its position within that industry. Although all such estimations have been made in good faith based on the information available and the Issuer's or the Loan Originator's knowledge of the market within which it operates, neither the Issuer, nor the Loan Originator can guarantee that a third-party expert using different methods would reach the same conclusions. Where information has not been independently sourced, it is the Issuer's or the Loan Originator's own information.

3.14. No incorporation of website information

The Issuer is affiliated with Nectaro and their website is www.nectaro.eu.

Unless specifically incorporated by reference into this Base Prospectus, information on the website or any other website mentioned in this Base Prospectus or any website directly or indirectly linked to these websites has not been verified, is not incorporated by reference into, and does not form part of, this Base Prospectus, and Investors should not rely on it.

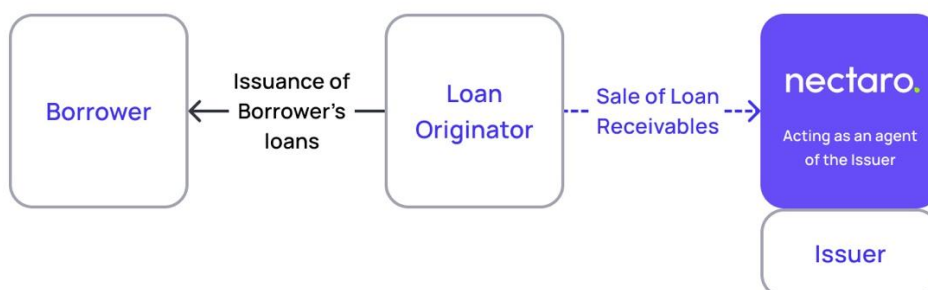

4. TRANSACTION OVERVIEW

4.1. THE DESCRIPTION OF THE TRANSACTIONS IN RELATION TO THE NOTES

4.1.1. The Issuer, Nectaro and the Loan Originator

The Issuer, Nectaro and the Loan Originator have entered the Transaction Documents for the issue and sale of the Notes as described in this Base Prospectus.

4.1.2. Transfer of the Loan Receivables by the Loan Originator to the Issuer

From time to time, the Loan Originator makes an irrevocable offer to sell the Loan Receivables to the Issuer. Generally, the offer of Loan Receivables is made prior to the disbursement of the Loans and the purchase of the related Notes, i.e. the Loan Receivables are future. However, the Loan Originator may offer already existing Loan Receivables from Loans that have already been disbursed. The offer to sell the Loan Receivable is accepted when the Issuer and the Loan Originator enter into a Purchase Agreement. The sale of the Loan Receivables to the Issuer is evidenced by Nectaro generating the Transfer Document. The Loan Receivables must meet certain eligibility criteria to form a 'pool' of Loan Receivables to serve as the underlying assets for a particular Series of Notes and to satisfy other conditions precedent.

Payment for the acquired Loan Receivables is subject to the placement of the Series of Notes, which means that the Loan Receivables transferred to the Issuer and backing the Series have characteristics that demonstrate the ability to produce funds to service all payments due and payable on the Notes. The Loan Originator retains in respect of each Loan the 'skin in the game' by retaining 5% of the outstanding principal amount.

The Loan Originator, the Issuer and Nectaro agree that Nectaro will act as the paying agent for the Issuer under the Transaction Documents, i.e. the Loan Originator will make payments directly to Nectaro and Nectaro will make payments directly to the Noteholders.

4.1.3. Issue of Notes

Once the Issuer has a pool of the Loan Receivables, Nectaro publishes the Final Terms for the relevant Series of Notes on the Platform on behalf of the Issuer. This process is automated and takes place in real time.

From the Issue Date, the Notes will be offered by the Issuer to the public through the Platform. Investors may purchase Notes from the Issue Date until the Maturity Date of the Notes set out in the Final Terms or until the time when the Notes have been sold in full by the Issuer to Investors, whichever is the earlier. Information on the results of the offer of the Notes will be published in real time on the website <https://nectaro.eu> from the Issue Date of the Notes.

The Issuer does not anticipate that there will be any conditions to the offer of the Notes.

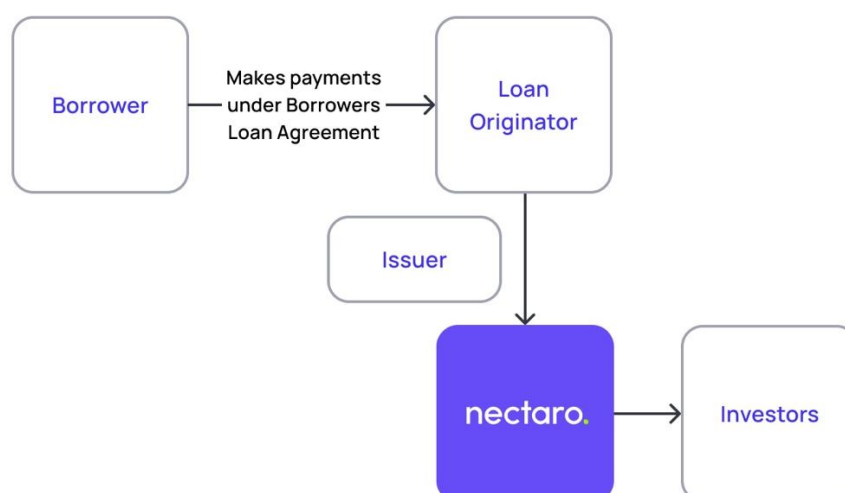

In order to purchase Notes from the Issuer, the Investor registered on the Platform places an investment order on the Platform indicating the amount of money that the Investor wishes to invest in particular Notes. The Investor may also use automated portfolio management services provided by Nectaro to purchase the Notes. The process of purchasing Notes is automated and takes place in real time. Upon acceptance of the investment order on the Platform, Nectaro debits cash funds from the Investor's cash account with Nectaro in exchange for delivery of the Notes to the Investor's financial instruments account with Nectaro. Payment for the Notes and delivery of the Notes takes place immediately after the investment order is placed on the Platform. The Notes are available immediately after the investment order has been executed by Nectaro via the Investor's profile on the Platform. As the Issuer and Nectaro provide financial services the price of which depends on fluctuations in the financial market over which the service provider has no control and which may occur during the withdrawal period for services relating to transferable securities, investment orders are executed immediately without granting Investors the so-called "cooling-off period" during which Investors are entitled to cancel the investment order.

The minimum subscription amount is one Note. The maximum subscription amount is up to the Aggregate Nominal Amount of the relevant Series of Notes, but subject to the nominal amount of the Notes being available for purchase from the Issuer at the time of execution of the investment order with Nectaro.

It is not expected that any expenses will be charged to the Investor by Nectaro or the Issuer on the purchase of the Notes. There is currently no financial transaction tax payable by the Issuer and/or Nectaro to the Investor on the subscription or purchase of a Note.

The Issuer expects that the net proceeds of any Series of Notes will be equal to the Aggregate Nominal Amount of such Series.

4.1.4. Payments under the Notes

The Interest specified in the Final Terms will begin to be calculated and will accrue from (and including) the next day on which the Investor has purchased the Notes from the Issuer and the Notes have been booked by Nectaro to the Investor's financial instruments account.

The Interest and principal payments under the Notes are linked to and dependent upon the corresponding payment being made under the pool of the underlying Loan Receivables. Notes may have different payments reflecting the different Loans issued by the Loan Originator, such as:

1. fully amortising Notes – the outstanding principal of the Note and interest are paid regularly over the life of the Note so that the outstanding principal of the Note is zero at maturity;
2. partially amortising (or 'balloon') Notes – the outstanding principal of the Note and interest are paid regularly during the life of the Notes, but a 'balloon' of outstanding principal of the Notes remains, which is paid at maturity;
3. interest-only Notes – only the interest is paid periodically during the life of the Note, while the outstanding principal of the Note is paid at maturity; and
4. bullet Notes – both the principal value of the outstanding Notes and the interest are paid at the maturity.

4.1.5. The Buyback Obligation

The Buyback Obligation is the obligation of the Loan Originator to repurchase the relevant Loan Receivables from the Issuer, if any payment under any of the relevant Loans is delayed by more than 60 days for the Loan Originator, provided that the Buyback Obligation is specified as applicable in the Final Terms.

If the Buyback Obligation is triggered, the relevant Series of Notes will be prematurely redeemed in part as soon as the Issuer has received the buyback price from the Loan Originator. The buyback price is the nominal value of the Loan Receivables at the time when the Buyback Obligation arose, i.e. the principal amount outstanding and the interest and other ancillary claims assigned to the Issuer that form part of the Loan Receivables up to the time the Buyback Obligation is triggered.

4.1.6. Repurchase

Repurchase is the right or obligation of the Loan Originator to repurchase the Loan Receivables from the Issuer upon the occurrence of certain events specified in the Cooperation Agreement.

The Repurchase rights may be exercised by the Loan Originator at any time in respect of any Loan Receivables. The repurchase price is the nominal value of the Loan Receivables, i.e. the principal amount outstanding and the interest and other ancillary claims assigned to the Issuer that form part of the Loan Receivables up to the time of the exercise of the Repurchase right, as they are at the time of the exercise of the Repurchase right.

The Repurchase obligation may arise in respect of one or more Loan Receivables or in respect of all Loan Receivables.

Individual affected Loan Receivable(s) must be repurchased by the Loan Originator in accordance with the Cooperation Agreement if the following occurs:

1. termination of the Loan Agreement under which the Loan Receivable arises by the Loan Originator;
2. if any of the following events occur:
 - a. the Loan Agreement under which any such individual Loan Receivable arises is or becomes invalid or unenforceable in whole or in part for any reason whatsoever, or it becomes impossible or unlawful for any party to any such document to perform its obligations thereunder; or
 - b. if, in the reasonable opinion of Nectaro and/or the Issuer the Loan Originator's fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation has been established;
3. in respect of the relevant Loan Receivables, as determined by Nectaro in its sole discretion, if any of the following events occur:
 - a. if any representations or warranties of the Loan Originator in the Cooperation Agreement in relation to the Loan are or prove to have been untrue when made or deemed to have been made;
 - b. a breach of an obligation of the Loan Originator to comply with certain restrictions on amendments to the Loan Agreements or a breach of the Loan Originator's obligations as servicer of the Loan Receivables; or
 - c. if it is or becomes unlawful for the Loan Originator to assign or offer to assign new Loan Receivables under the laws applicable to the Loan Originator and/or the Loan Receivables and/or to perform any of its obligations under the Cooperation Agreement in relation to the assignment or servicing of the Loan Receivable (i.e. with retroactive effect).

The above may not be the exact wording of the provisions of the Cooperation Agreement, but even if the wording is different, the description of the essence remains correct.

In the event of an Event of Default under the Cooperation Agreement has occurred (see paragraph: THE TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS - The Cooperation Agreement – Events of Default), Nectaro is entitled to require the Loan Originator to repurchase all the Loan Receivables transferred to the Issuer. Nectaro may, at its discretion, request the repurchase of all the Loan Receivables or not. If full repurchase is requested, the Repurchase obligation must be satisfied by payment of the repurchase price within the period, which in most cases will be 5 (five) Business Days, but which may be set at a longer period up to a maximum of 6 months, after the notice has been given to the Loan Originator regarding the repurchase and the final calculation of the amounts payable has been sent to the Loan Originator.

As soon as the payment is overdue 3 day, the Loan Originator starts its reminder system (texts, emails, letters). The customer is informed about the overdue amounts and the further actions in case of non-payment. The customer may be offered various instruments to facilitate repayment: deferment (i.e. the right to defer repayment of the first instalment for a certain period of time) and extension (i.e. a loan agreement under which the original instalment plan is modified to allow the customer to repay the remainder of the loan in smaller monthly instalments over a longer period than originally agreed).

If the customer has not fulfilled his contractual obligations, the Loan Originator may unilaterally terminate the individual loan agreement. The overdue loan will be terminated before the overdue loan reaches 60 days if the debt collection strategy applied is not effective. After termination of the agreement, the customer is still offered to restructure the repayment of the loan into smaller regular repayments instead of a total sum repayment.

Main applicable laws and regulations in respect of non-bank business loans in Latvia and respectively to Loans are:

- Commercial Law;
- Civil Procedure Law.

The Borrower may be required to pay a penalty for events specified in the Loan Agreement.

The Loan Agreement is subject to such amendments and/or variations from time to time as specified in Section 4.2 (THE TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS).

The Loan Agreement is drafted in English language.

8.2. Repayment and maturity

Under the Loan, the Borrower makes monthly payments of interest according to a pre-agreed payment schedule that is incorporated into the Loan agreement. The principal of the Loan is repaid in full at the maturity.

Borrowers may repay the outstanding balance in full or in part by notifying the Loan Originator. In such case no early repayment fee is applicable. In the case of a partial early repayment, the Borrower is obliged to pay the accumulated interest. Interest will be charged on daily basis for the whole period of use of the Loan. Interest payable for one day is calculated as per interest rate stipulated in the Loan Agreement with the assumption that a month consists of 30 days and a year consists of 360 days respectively.

8.3. Economic environment in Latvia

After the rapid recovery of the economy from the Covid-19 pandemic crisis in 2021, growth in Latvia slowed down to 3.4% in 2022. The economic development in 2022 was significantly affected by the supply chain disruptions caused by the Russian invasion of Ukraine, the rise in inflation caused by energy and food prices, as well as the decrease in global demand.

In 2023, the economic development continued to be affected by the geopolitical situation and uncertainty, high prices and rising bank interest rates. In Q1 of 2023, economic growth ceased. However, in Q2 of 2023, GDP already declined by 1.1% compared to the corresponding period last year. In the first half of 2023, GDP was 0.6% lower than a year ago.

In 2024, despite stabilized inflation, the economic situation remained stagnant due to an unfavourable external environment. GDP contracted by 0.4%. Private and government consumption increased, but Latvia's foreign trade flows and investment activity slowed.

The Ministry of Economics forecasts that economic activity will begin to recover in 2025. Growth will be supported by an improving global economic environment, which is expected to revive export activity. Lower interest rates in the eurozone, including Latvia, will also help boost consumption, the real estate market, and construction. Additionally, increased investment from EU funds and reforms aimed at enhancing competitiveness – including reduced labour taxes – will have a significant positive impact on Latvia's economy. However, risks remain, particularly those related to the geopolitical situation and potential increases in U.S. import tariffs.

The medium-term economic outlook depends heavily on external conditions and the implementation of reforms. The most significant risks to Latvia's growth relate to global economic developments – particularly the geopolitical landscape. Continued progress within the EU's common economic space will also be important. Latvia's medium-term economic strengths will lie in its macroeconomic stability, which has led to improved credit ratings, the effective use of EU support programs, and improvements to the business environment. However, if the war in Ukraine continues, the pace of economic recovery may remain subdued.

Latvia's competitive advantages are increasingly rooted in technological development, improved production efficiency, and innovation, rather than in low labor costs or cheap resources. Under favorable conditions, Latvia's medium-term growth potential could reach 4-5% per year.

“Material Uncertainty Related to Going Concern

We draw attention to Note 1 to the financial statements, which indicates that the Company has sustained net losses of 36 957 550 PHP (according to European Central Bank on 31 December 2024 on the Euro foreign exchange reference rate it is about 612 884.53 EUR) for the year ended December 31, 2024, and has also incurred cumulative deficit amounting to 28 481 769 PHP (according to European Central Bank on 31 December 2024 on the Euro foreign exchange reference rate it is about 472 326.64 EUR) as of December 31, 2024, due to difficulties and challenges in the generation of sales. The management, through its shareholders, has committed to provide cash advances to support the Company’s working capital requirements. However, these conditions indicate that a material uncertainty exists which may cast significant doubt on the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.”

The identified material uncertainty is factually accurate; however, the reported losses and cumulative deficit were anticipated and are in line with the expected financial result, because 2024 was the first year of operations since the acquisition and the Company only commenced issuing new loans in the summer of 2024. According to company management the shareholders have confirmed their readiness to provide cash advances to support the Company’s working capital requirements, and management is implementing the planned measures to improve liquidity and operating performance. The Principal Amount Outstanding of the Notes to be redeemed shall be in the same proportion as the proportion that the principal payment received by the Issuer has to the total principal amount outstanding of all the Series Specific Loans immediately before the principal payment. Any accrued but unpaid Interest associated to that proportion of the Principal Amount Outstanding of the Notes being redeemed will be paid at the same time. For the avoidance of doubt, when the Principal Amount Outstanding of the Notes is redeemed, the nominal amount of each Note (as specified in the Final Terms) will be constant and unchanged.

Any repayment of the Principal Amount Outstanding will be made only in accordance with Clauses 10.8, 10.12 and 10.26 and will be subject to the relevant Payment Event having occurred and the Issuer having received the corresponding payment under the Series Specific Loans.

10.11. INTEREST AND PRINCIPAL DETERMINATION

Nectaro determines (a) the amount of Interest and the Late Payment Interest (if any) payable in accordance with Clause 10.9 for each Interest Payment Date and (b) the amount of principal payable in accordance with Clause 10.10 on each Redemption Date and the Maturity Date, on its review of the following information:

All determinations, calculations and adjustments made by Nectaro will be made in conjunction with the Issuer and will, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive in all respects and binding upon the Issuer and all Noteholders.

10.12. PAYMENTS

Any overdue payment of Interest or principal on any of the Series Specific Loans that have been collected by the Loan Originator (including by its external debt collection agency) will be paid to the Issuer as an Available Distribution Amount, to be paid in accordance with the Priority of Payments on the date determined by the Issuer in its sole discretion.

2. the Issuer and Nectaro determine in good faith that there is no realistic prospect of collecting any further funds from the Loan Originator if the Series Specific Loans are subject to the Buyback Obligation and/or Repurchase but the Issuer has not received the full amount due under the Buyback Obligation or Repurchase or, if earlier, after 10 years from the Maturity Date, as of that date all the Notes outstanding will be cancelled in full, the Issuer will be deemed to have discharged all of its payment and other obligations to each of the Noteholders and no Noteholder will have any rights in respect of any of the Notes.

If the due date for payment of any amount in respect of any Notes is not a Business Day, the Noteholder will not be entitled to payment of the amount due until the next succeeding Business Day in such place and will not be entitled to any further interest or other payment in respect of any such delay.

10.13. LIMITED RECOURSE AND NON-PETITION

Notwithstanding anything in the Base Prospectus, the obligations of the Issuer in respect of the Notes are limited recourse obligations which are payable solely from the sums of principal, Interest, other return and additional amounts (if any) actually received (and identified as such) in relation to the Series Specific Loans.

All payments to be made by the Issuer in respect of the Notes will be made only from and to the extent of the sums received or recovered from time to time by or on behalf of the Issuer under the Series Specific Loans, subject always to the Priority of Payments.

In relation to any sums received or recovered, the Issuer (or Nectaro on its behalf) will follow these Terms and Conditions in determining to which Series of Notes such sums relate and such determination will be binding on Noteholders of all Series in the absence of manifest error.

To the extent that the sums referred to above in this Clause are less than the amount which the Noteholders may have expected and been entitled to receive (such difference being referred to as the shortfall), the shortfall will be borne by the Noteholders.

Each Noteholder, on subscribing or buying any Note directly, through a strategy of the Platform or any other way, irrevocably accepts and acknowledges that it is fully aware that:

1. only the sums referred to in this Clause as stated above will be available for any payments to be made by the Issuer in respect of the Notes;
2. the sums which are attributable to another Series of Notes are only available in satisfaction of the obligations of the Issuer to such Noteholders;
3. the obligations of the Issuer to make payments in respect of the Notes will be limited to the sums and the Noteholders will have no recourse to the Issuer, the Loan Originator, Nectaro or their respective shareholders, directors, officers, employees, affiliates, successors or assigns in respect of the Notes for the shortfall;
4. no Noteholder is entitled to proceed against the Issuer or Nectaro for the shortfall;
5. following the realisation and distribution of the net proceeds from the Loan Receivable corresponding to the Series Specific Loan in accordance with the Priority of Payments, the Noteholders or anyone acting on behalf of any of them will not be entitled to take any further steps against the Issuer or Nectaro to recover any further sum and the right to receive any such further sum will be deemed as fulfilled;
6. no Noteholder will be entitled to petition or take any other step or join with any other person in bringing, instituting or joining, insolvency, winding-up, liquidation or bankruptcy proceedings (whether court-based or otherwise), or for the appointment of an examiner, liquidator or analogous person in relation to the Issuer, nor will it have any claim to, or in respect of any sum arising in respect of any assets of the Issuer.

Non-payment of the shortfall referred to in this Clause above will not constitute an Event of Default.

None of the shareholders of the Issuer or the Loan Originator has any obligation to any Noteholder for payment of any amount by the Issuer in respect of the Notes.

The provisions of this Clause 10.13 will survive redemption of the Notes.

10.14. PURCHASE

The Issuer may at any time purchase Notes at any price in the open market or otherwise.

Any Note purchased by the Issuer on the sole discretion of the Issuer may be cancelled by Nectaro.

10.15. CANCELLATION

All Notes which are redeemed or cancelled may not be re-issued or resold.

10.16. PRESCRIPTION

All claims against the Issuer for payment in respect of the Notes will be prescribed and become void unless made within 10 years from the date on which payment in respect of the Notes first becomes due.

10.17. FURTHER ISSUES

The Issuer may from time to time without the consent of the Noteholders create and issue further Series and further tranches of existing Series of Notes. A further tranche of an existing Series will:

1. be fungible with the Notes of that existing Series;
2. have the same terms and conditions as the Notes of that Series except for the Aggregate Nominal Amount, the Issue Date, the Issue Price, the Interest Accrual Periods, the first Interest Payment Date and the first Redemption Date;
3. be consolidated and form a single Series with that existing Series of Notes, and references in these Terms and Conditions to Notes will be construed accordingly.

10.18. EVENTS OF DEFAULT

1. Any of the following events will constitute an event of default under the Notes (each, an Event of Default):
 - (a) if any order is made by any competent court or any resolution passed for the winding-up or dissolution (including any bankruptcy, insolvency, voluntary, forced or judicial liquidation, composition with creditors, a reprieve from payment, controlled management, fraudulent conveyance, general settlement with creditors or reorganisation proceedings or similar proceedings affecting the rights of creditors generally) of the Issuer (save for the purposes of amalgamation, merger, consolidation, reorganisation or other similar arrangements); or
 - (b) formal notice is given of an appointment an administrator (including any receiver, liquidator), provisional administrator; or
 - (c) any application is made, or petition is lodged, or documents are filed with the court or administrator in relation to the Issuer for the actions, proceeding or procedures specified in paragraphs (a) or (b) above, unless such proceedings or petitions are disputed in good faith and are discharged or dismissed within 75 calendar days of commencement.
2. The Issuer is obliged to inform Nectaro immediately if any Event of Default should occur. Should Nectaro not receive such information, Nectaro is entitled to assume that no Event of Default exists or can be expected to occur, provided that Nectaro does not have knowledge of any Event of Default. Nectaro is under no obligation to make any investigations relating to any Event of Default. The Issuer will, at the request of Nectaro, provide Nectaro with details of any Event of Default and provide Nectaro with all documents that may be of significance for the application of this Clause 10.18.

3. If Nectaro has been notified by the Issuer or has otherwise determined that there is an Event of Default, Nectaro will, within 15 Business Days of the day of notification or determination, notify the Noteholders according to Clause 10.21.
4. Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, Notes are repaid according to the terms and conditions stipulated by this Prospectus and relevant Series Final Terms, unless otherwise required by a rule of the law.
5. Nectaro, subject to the Noteholders indemnifying and holding Nectaro harmless from any reasonable expenses, loss or liability, will take every reasonable measure necessary to recover the amounts outstanding under the Notes according to their terms and conditions and Transaction Documents. Nectaro will in each case inform the Noteholders about the costs which should be compensated prior to requesting any indemnification. In any case Nectaro will charge this compensation of costs only up to the recovered amount. Nectaro will not ask for compensation of costs for its in-house staff and resources.
6. For the avoidance of doubt, if any payment is not made by the Issuer because the Issuer has not received the relevant amounts under the Series Specific Loans so that the Available Distribution Amount after application of the Priority of Payments is not enough to make payments due under the Notes in full, the occurrence of such event will, as such, not constitute an Event of Default.

10.19. MEETING OF NOTEHOLDERS

10.19.1. General provisions

The Issuer from time to time may convene a meeting of the Noteholders (the Noteholders Meeting) to adopt resolutions on certain matters. The Issuer at its own discretion decides which matters will be reserved for passing at the Noteholders Meeting.

These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Noteholders including Noteholders who did not attend and vote at the Noteholders Meeting or in respect of the relevant resolution and Noteholders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority. As a result, Noteholders may be bound by a change to these Terms and Conditions or by some other decision that affects Noteholders' investment in the Notes even though they have not agreed to such change.

The Noteholders Meeting may adopt its resolutions in one of the two forms as chosen by the Issuer:

1. at a meeting held by attendance of the Noteholders to discuss the items on the agenda and pass resolutions on the matters put to the vote using ballots provided; or
2. by absentee voting (without attendance of the Noteholders to discuss the items on the agenda and pass resolutions on the matters put to the vote).

The Noteholders Meeting will be chaired, and minutes taken by a representative of Nectaro.

10.19.2. Resolutions of the Noteholders Meeting

Matters put to the vote at a Noteholders Meeting and its agenda will be decided by the Issuer.

The Noteholders may neither pass resolutions on the matters not included in its agenda nor amend the agenda.

Resolutions passed by the Noteholders Meeting and voting results will be provided to the persons eligible to participate in the Noteholders Meeting in a report, which will be disclosed to the Noteholders as per the procedure prescribed with regard to sending notices of the Noteholders Meeting, within 5 Business Days after the closing date of the meeting or the final date for submitting the voting ballots in case of absentee voting. However, the failure to do so will not invalidate the resolution.

The resolution will be binding on all the Noteholders, whether or not present at the Noteholders Meeting and each of them will be bound to give effect to it accordingly.

10.19.3. Information on holding a Noteholders Meeting

The Issuer will notify the Noteholders about the Noteholders Meeting in accordance with the procedure below.

A notice of the Noteholders Meeting (the Notice) will be given according to Clause 10.21 no later than 7 Business days in advance.

The Notice will be given to the Noteholders registered on the date of the Notice in the electronic register of Noteholders maintained by Nectaro.

The Issuer may decide not to publish the Notice on the Platform. In such a case within the time specified in this Clause 10.19.3 the Issuer will send the Notice to the Noteholders by email.

The Issuer may at its own discretion make available information to the Noteholders entitled to participate in the Noteholders Meeting as part of preparations for the Noteholders Meeting.

10.19.4. Quorum at a Noteholders Meeting

A Noteholders Meeting will be deemed quorate if attended by Noteholders aggregately holding more than 50% of:

1. the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of all Series of Notes towards the Loan Originator on the date of the Notice if the decision is related towards all Series of Notes outstanding; or
2. the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the relevant Series of Notes on the date of the Notice if the decision is related towards the relevant Series of Notes outstanding.

The number of votes for each Noteholder equals the Principal Amount Outstanding in the respective Series on the date of the Notice.

When a Noteholders Meeting is held by attendance of the Noteholders to discuss the items on the agenda and pass resolutions on the matters put to the vote, the Noteholders registered to participate in the Noteholders Meeting and the Noteholders whose ballots have been received no later than 2 days before the Noteholders Meeting will be deemed to have participated in the Noteholders Meeting.

When a Noteholders Meeting is held in the form of absentee voting, the Noteholders whose ballots have been received before the final date for submitting the ballots will be deemed to have participated in the Noteholders Meeting.

Where there is no quorum for a Noteholders Meeting, a second Noteholders Meeting will be held with the same agenda. Such second Noteholders Meeting will be deemed quorate if attended by Noteholders aggregately holding more than 30% of:

1. the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of all Series of Notes towards the Loan Originator on the date of the Notice if the decision is related towards all Series of Notes outstanding; or
2. the aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding of the relevant Series of Notes on the date of the Notice if the decision is related towards the relevant Series of Notes outstanding.

Subject to the quorum being present, the decisions on the Noteholders Meeting agenda will be adopted per each item of the agenda by the majority from the total amount of votes provided.

10.19.5. Voting ballots

Ballots for voting at a Noteholders Meeting will be sent together with the Notice according to Clause 10.21.

Ballots for voting will be in the English language.

Voting could be convened as an e-voting through filling-out a voting ballot and submitting it electronically through the Platform.

Noteholders included in the list of those entitled to participate in the Noteholders Meeting other than the Noteholders Meeting held in the form of absentee voting, or their representatives, may register to participate or forward their completed ballots to the Issuer. Voting ballots will be counted towards the calculation of the quorum and voting results if received no later than 2 days before the Noteholders Meeting.

The voting ballot will contain the information about the Noteholders Meeting including but not limited to:

1. information about the Issuer, including address and contact person;
2. details identifying the Series of Notes;
3. form of the Noteholders Meeting (attendance or by absentee voting);
4. date, place and time of the Noteholders Meeting if it is held in the form of attendance of the Noteholders;
5. Principal Amount Outstanding;
6. voting options for each item on the agenda, expressed as “for”, “against”, or “abstained”, and the indication that the voting ballot must be signed by a person entitled to participate in the Noteholders Meeting or its representative unless convened by e-voting.

When voting by ballots, only those voting ballots are counted where for each item only one voting option is selected. The voting ballots completed in breach of the requirement will be deemed invalid. However, if there are several items put to the vote on the voting ballot, breach of the requirement with respect to one or several items will not affect the validity of the remaining ballot. If a voting ballot is rendered invalid with respect to voting on one, several or all items included in such ballot, the votes so cast in such ballot will not be excluded from the calculation of the quorum. If a voting ballot is rendered invalid, the votes on the items contained in the voting ballot will not be counted.

10.19.6. Counting

The counting functions will be performed by Nectaro, which will check the powers of, and register the participants in a Noteholders Meeting, determine the quorum at a Noteholders Meeting, count the votes and determine the voting results, draw up the voting minutes and hand over the voting ballots to the archive.

10.20. SUBSTITUTION

The Issuer or any previous substitute company may be substituted by any other company as principal obligor under all of the Notes then outstanding provided that such substitution would not be materially prejudicial to the interests of the Noteholders and subject to the other Terms and Conditions being complied with, including with provisions of the Transaction Documents, and further provided that Latvijas Banka has given its prior consent to such substitution if any needed according to the applicable law.

By subscribing to, or otherwise acquiring, the Notes, the Noteholders expressly consent to the substitution of the Issuer and to the release of the Issuer from all obligations in respect of the Notes and any relevant agreements and are expressly deemed to have accepted such substitution and the consequences of such substitution.

Any such substitution will be notified to Noteholders in accordance with Clause 10.21.

10.21. NOTICES AND PROVISION OF INFORMATION

Notices to the Noteholders will be given upon sole discretion of the Issuer in the English language and/or any other language the Issuer deems fit for such purposes and will be given by using one or several communication channels:

1. emailed to respective email addresses in the register of Noteholders and deemed to have been given within 24 hours after the dispatch;
2. delivered to Nectaro for further communication to the Noteholder according to the services provision agreement between Nectaro and the Noteholder (including times when deemed to have been duly given).

Any notices, demands, claims or other communication to the Issuer by any Noteholder will be in the English language and will be given by using one of the following communication channels:

1. delivered by hand or courier and deemed to have been given on the same day of delivery;
2. delivered by registered mail and deemed to have been given on the 7th calendar day following the date indicated on the stamp by the postal service provider on the acceptance of a registered letter.

For the purposes of Clause 10.21 notices or other communications addressed to the Issuer will be given to Nectaro, serving as an agent for this purpose:

SIA Nectaro
Rīga, Jeruzalemes iela 1, LV-1010, Latvia
For the attention of SIA "Nectaro Charlie"

10.22. AGENTS

Nectaro acts solely as an agent of the Issuer and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, any Noteholder.

The Issuer subject to the provisions of the Transaction Documents reserves the right at any time to vary or terminate the appointment of Nectaro or the Loan Originator and any other party to any of the Transaction Documents.

10.23. FORCE MAJEURE

Neither the Issuer nor Nectaro will be responsible for any failure to perform any of its respective obligations under these Terms and Conditions which is due to any reason that is independent on that person's will and has resulted from a force majeure event. A force majeure event will apply only and solely if that person has taken all steps that depend on it to perform the obligation. Once the force majeure event has finished, that person must immediately resume the performance of the obligation. The following circumstances will be considered as force majeure events:

1. extraordinary and unavoidable circumstances including natural disasters, fire, flood, earthquake, warfare, terror acts, riots and strikes;
2. technical failures, delays or malfunctions; failure of computers, communications systems, hardware and/or software; power supply malfunctions; or other critical infrastructure malfunctions, which neither the Issuer nor Nectaro could have prevented or predicted;
3. decisions and/or activities of local and/or foreign public authorities, and/or international organisations;
4. entry into force, amendments and/or suspension of a statutory act binding on either the Issuer or Nectaro affecting the performance of obligations under these Terms and Conditions;

5. any circumstance defined as a force majeure circumstance in any of the Transaction Documents.

10.24. GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION

The Notes (and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with the Notes) are governed by and will be construed in accordance with the law of the Republic of Latvia.

The courts of the Republic of Latvia are to have jurisdiction to settle any disputes which may arise out of or in connection with the Notes (including any disputes relating to any noncontractual obligations arising out of or in connection with the Notes) and accordingly any legal action or proceedings arising out of or in conjunction with the Notes may be brought in such courts. The Issuer and each of the Noteholders irrevocably submits to the jurisdiction of such courts.

10.25. AMENDMENTS AND MODIFICATIONS

To comply with any applicable law, the Issuer may validly amend or supplement these Terms and Conditions by publishing the changed Terms and Conditions on the Platform without the consent of the Noteholders.

10.26. LIMITATION OF LIABILITY, AND REPRESENTATION AND WARRANTIES OF THE NOTEHOLDER

Notwithstanding anything in the Base Prospectus, other than with respect to gross negligence or wilful misconduct by the Issuer and/or Nectaro, neither the Issuer nor Nectaro will be held liable by any Noteholder for:

1. any material error, misrepresentation, omission or fraud by the Loan Originator;
2. failure of the Loan Originator for whatever reason to inform the Issuer and/or Nectaro of the Payment Event having occurred or for the information being inaccurate or wrong;
3. the quality of Loan Receivables; or
4. determinations and decisions when distributing amounts under the Notes, including, when applying the Priority of Payments, deciding whether to defer payment or make a partial payment, relying upon or deciding if and when there is no realistic prospect of collecting further funds under a Series Specific Loan, including in the event of default of the Loan Originator.

In all cases liability of the Issuer and/or Nectaro to any Noteholder under these Terms and Conditions will be limited to the amount invested in the impacted Notes by the Noteholder.

Each Noteholder, on subscribing or buying any Note directly, through a strategy of the Platform irrevocably accept and acknowledge that it is fully aware that:

1. the Issuer and Nectaro do not make any representation or warranty in respect of, or will not at any time have any responsibility for, or, save as otherwise expressly provided in these Terms and Conditions, liability or obligation in respect of the performance and observance by the Loan Originator of its obligations under the relevant Series Specific Loan and the Cooperation Agreement, or the recoverability of any sum of the principal, Interest, other return or any additional amounts (if any) due or to become due from any Borrower and/or the Loan Originator;
2. the Issuer and Nectaro will not at any time have any responsibility for, or obligation or liability in respect of, the condition, financial or otherwise, covenant, creditworthiness, affairs, status or nature of any Borrower, the Loan Originator or any other person;

3. the Issuer and Nectaro will not at any time be liable for any representation or warranty, or any act, default or omission of any Borrower, the Loan Originator or any other person;
4. the Issuer will not at any time have any responsibility for, or liability or obligation in respect of, the performance and observance by Nectaro of its obligations under the Transaction Documents or any other agreement entered or to be entered into by and between the Noteholders and Nectaro;
5. financial servicing and performance of the terms of the Notes depend upon both the performance by each Borrower of its obligations under the Series Specific Loan, its duties to make payments under the Series Specific Loan and its credit and financial standing, and the performance by the Loan Originator of their respective contractual obligations towards the Issuer and Nectaro as well as their respective credit and financial standing;
6. the Notes, which the Noteholder has or will acquire, reflect the performance of the relevant Series Specific Loans. The Noteholder has no direct recourse to the any of the Series Specific Loans or the corresponding Loan Receivables. Once the Loan Receivables have been realised according to these Terms and Conditions, the Noteholder is not entitled to take any further steps against the Issuer or Nectaro to recover any further sums due and the right to receive any such sum will be extinguished. The Noteholder accepts not to attach or otherwise seize any of the assets of the Issuer. In particular, the Noteholder will not be entitled to petition or take any step for the winding-up, the liquidation or the bankruptcy of the Issuer or any similar insolvency-related proceedings and such petition or action will be treated as null and void as from its initiation time;
7. the Investment Accounts will be opened and be held by the Noteholder fully operational with Nectaro while the Noteholder holds any Notes.

11. TAXATION

The information provided in this Section will not be treated as legal or tax advice; and prospective investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors as to the tax consequences of the subscription, ownership and disposal of the Notes applicable to their particular circumstances. The following is a general summary of certain tax considerations in the Republic of Latvia in relation to the Notes. It is not exhaustive and does not purport to be a complete analysis of all tax consequences relating to the Notes, as well as does not take into account or discuss the tax implications of any country other than the Republic of Latvia.

Tax laws of the Noteholder's country of residence for taxation purposes and of the Issuer's country of residence may have an impact on the income received from the Notes.

This summary is based on the laws of Latvia as in force on the date of this Base Prospectus and is subject to any change in the law that may take effect after such date, provided that such changes could apply also retroactively.

Latvia has entered into a number of tax conventions on elimination of double taxation (hereinafter – DTT), which may provide a more favourable taxation regime. Therefore, if there is a valid DTT between Latvia and the country of tax residence of a prospective Noteholder, it should be also examined. The procedures for application of tax conventions are provided in the Republic of Latvia Cabinet of Ministers' Regulations No. 178 “Procedures for Application of Tax Relief Determined in International Agreements for Prevention of Double Taxation and Tax Evasion”, adopted on 30 April 2001.

Taxation of the Issuer

Issuer is a corporate income taxpayer in Latvia. According to the Latvian tax law, the annual profit earned by entities in Latvia is not taxed. Instead, corporate income tax is paid on dividends, fringe benefits, gifts, donations, representation costs, non-business related disbursements and transfer pricing adjustments. The tax rate applicable is 20%, however, the taxable base is divided by the coefficient 0.8, thus the effective corporate income tax rate is 25%.

Taxation of the Noteholders individuals

Resident individuals

An individual will be considered as a resident of Latvia for taxation purposes, if at least one of the following requirements is met:

1. the declared place of residence of this person is in Latvia;
2. the person stays in Latvia for at least 183 days over the course of a period of 12 consecutive calendar months;
3. the person is a Latvian citizen who is employed by the government of Latvia in a foreign country.

In accordance with the Latvian tax laws the interest income received by the individual tax resident in Latvia is subject to tax at the rate of 20%. The personal income tax will be withheld by the Issuer before the Interest payment is made by the Issuer to the Noteholder. The tax withheld by the Issuer is a final tax liability on the interest income received.

The income from the sale of the Notes is treated as an income similar to the interest income for the Latvian personal income tax purposes and will be subject to 20% personal income tax and the tax is payable by the individual him/herself.

Non-resident individuals

An individual will be considered as a non-resident of Latvia for taxation purposes in all cases unless he/she is a tax resident of Latvia. Interest income from the Notes received by the non-resident individual will subject to personal income tax in Latvia according to the rate set forth by law, which is currently 20%. However, if the non-resident is a tax resident in a European Union or European Economic Area country and has submitted to the Platform (and Platform has accepted) valid self-certification confirming the tax residence in the respective European Union or European Economic Area country, the tax rate applicable in Latvia will be 5%.

The personal income tax will be withheld by the Issuer before the Interest payment is made by the Issuer to the Noteholder.

According to the general practice, the tax withheld in Latvia might be deducted from the tax payable by the Investor in his/her residence country (as tax paid abroad). However, we recommend consulting with the respective country's tax administration or tax adviser to clarify the procedure and documents required to perform such a deduction (if any).

The tax rate might be reduced based on DTT between Latvia and the respective country. The list of DTT concluded by Latvia is available here: [\[https://www.vid.gov.lv/en/international-agreements\]](https://www.vid.gov.lv/en/international-agreements)

The income from the sale of the Notes will be subject to 20% tax and the tax would be payable by the individual him/herself if the buyer of the Notes is an individual or legal entity non-resident of Latvia. If the buyer is a legal entity - resident of Latvia, the tax at the rate of 3% will be withheld by the buyer from the remuneration paid.

Taxation of the Noteholders legal entities

Resident legal entities

A legal entity would be considered as a resident of Latvia for tax purposes if it is established pursuant to Latvian law. Interest payments on the Notes and proceeds from the disposal of the Notes received by Latvian resident legal entities will not be subject to withholding tax in Latvia. Under the Latvian tax law retained earnings are exempt from corporate income tax and only profit distributions are taxed. Distributed gross profits are subject to the 20% profit tax. Corporate income tax on net amount of profit distribution is determined by dividing net amount with a coefficient of 0.8 (i.e., effective tax rate on net distributed profit is 25%).

Non-resident legal entities

A legal entity would be considered as a non-resident of Latvia for tax purposes in all cases unless it is a tax resident of Latvia. The interest income and capital gains from the sale of the Notes for non-resident legal entities will not be taxable in Latvia (i.e., gross income will be paid), except if the income recipient is located, registered or incorporated in a no-tax or low-tax country (so called “tax havens”; if this is the case - 20% tax will be withheld by the Issuer in Latvia). The list of “tax havens” according to the Latvian law includes US Guam, US Samoa, US Virgin Islands, Republic of Fiji, Republic of Palau, Republic of Panama, Independent State of Samoa, Republic of Trinidad and Tobago, Republic of Vanuatu, the Commonwealth of the Bahamas, Anguilla, Turks and Caicos Islands, British territory, Antigua and Barbuda, Belize, Russian Federation, Republic of Seychelles, Vanuatu. The list of mentioned countries and territories may be amended from time to time.
